On some matters, such as drafting a simple will, deed or other standard document, uncontested divorces, and basic incorporation packages, we can quote you a fixed fee. In some cases there is legislation or a court which will set our fees. In other situations, such as litigation, it may be difficult to fix a fee. In these cases the best we can do is to set a rough high and low estimate.

We will provide you with well-trained and experienced legal specialists, competent secretarial services, modern equipment, research and library facilities. We will give your problems our continuing personal attention to attain the maximum result possible in the most reasonable time.

We encourage you to discuss with us, at any time, our fee arrangement, the progress of your case and the details of any particular bill. We try to do what is fair and proper. We base our relationship with you on mutual confidence and respect. It is on this basis that we have established our reputation for a cordial and enduring relationship with our clients.
